Ishtar Gate

Ishtar Gate was built by King Nebuchadnezzar, the Babylonian king. It was the main entrance to the city of Babylon. It was named after the goddess Ishtar. King Nebuchadnezzar also restored the Temple of Marduk and the Hanging Gardens. He wanted to make Babylon beautiful. At first the Ishtar Gate was one of the Seven Wonders of the World, but it was replaced by the Lighthouse of Alexandria. Some ancients believed that it was so exquisite that it, along with the walls of Babylon, should still be considered a wonder. Color its walls blue and the animals brown and yellow, just like the original Ishtar Gate.

What It Takes To Become An Astronaut . . .

Draw yourself as an astronaut and create a flag that represents the skills you think you have that would help you be a great space traveler. Becoming an astronaut isn't easy. Find out what it takes to become an astronaut . . .

What kind of an education should I get?

What specific fields is NASA looking for?

Do I need any special skills?

What percentage of people living on our planet have actually traveled into space?

What other jobs does NASA have that would interest me?

Read the stories of at least 3 NASA astronauts and find out how they became astronauts.
